

Personal Health Carer – Ref: SOLODFY Didcot – OX11

I am a young lady living at home within the community. I enjoy socialising with my friends and I am very close to my family who lead in my care and support. I lead a busy life and enjoy taking part in social activities and attending regular groups activities weekly.

Due to a Global Development Delay from birth, resulting in severe disability and complex health issues I need support and prompting in achieving all of the above to remain as independent as possible. My health needs are complex, I am therefore looking for a Personal Health Carer who will be able to support me during the week day and at weekends being paid at £10.00 per hour. Available shifts are: Wednesday 4pm-6pm, Thursday 4pm-6pm, Sunday's (morning and afternoon support available) and alternative Saturday's 9am-4pm.

The ideal candidate needs good communication skills, learning my preferred way of communication whilst being patient, flexible friendly and punctual. You need to be a good listener, trustworthy and highly organised as well as honest, caring and outgoing, with an attitude of doing this 'with' me and not for "me".
